Municipal Conference Celebrates 50 Years of Intergovernmental Cooperation

The DuPage Mayors and Managers Conference (DMMC) celebrated a once in a lifetime event this past Friday: the organization's 50th anniversary. Planning began a year ago to bring together members – both current and former – to reminisce about the past 50 years of accomplishments. The event, which took place at the Hilton Lisle/Naperville, entertained nearly 200 guests including members, 12 past presidents of DMMC, corporate partners and other dignitaries.

Village President Rodney Craig of Hanover Park was inducted as the organization's president for a one year term beginning June 1, 2012. Mayor Jeff Pruyn was also inducted as the vice president and Carol Stream Manager Joe Breinig was inducted as the secretary/treasurer. The three were elected by their peers at the Conference's April 18, 2012 business meeting. As president, Craig is charged with appointing Conference members to serve as directors and deputy directors to the Conference's committees. These individuals, along with the three officers, liaisons to the Metropolitan Mayors Caucus Executive Board, Past Presidents and At-Large Representatives, comprise the Conference's Board of Directors.

In his induction speech President Craig welcomed the coming term, "It's going to be a dynamic year. I look forward to the collaboration and cooperation of our members and engaging legislators with a positive approach." Following the induction, the celebration of the 50th anniversary began with former Naperville City Manager Peter Burchard as the master of ceremonies for the evening. Guests then heard from former Carol Stream Manager Greg Bielawski, Warrenville Mayor David Brummel, DMMC Executive Director Mark Baloga and Roselle Mayor Gayle Smolinski.

The Conference, founded in 1962, is an organization of 33 municipalities in DuPage County. For more information, visit www.dmmc-cog.org
